

100 PEOPLE GATHER TO SUPPORT SENATOR BILL WEBER

BY: Keith S. Shikowitz, Editor in Chief/Investigative Reporter

Today's political climate is the most divided it has ever been. For anyone to get endorsements from the opposite side is nothing short of miraculous. Bill Weber has the charisma and abilities that attract people from all sides of the political spectrum to support him. This was evident at a fundraiser he held in Nanuet on June 18, 2026.

After the introduction of all of the elected and former elected officials Weber was introduced "And now the man of the hour, the person we are all here to help send back to Albany to defeat the wild Democrats and their loony politics, Senator William J. Weber Jr.

"Nobody calls me William except for my father. I really appreciate everyone coming here tonight. You know, it's amazing that we have such a diverse community that in here in Rockland, one of the most diverse Senate districts, I think, in the state, and I think tonight's, Attendance here reflects the diversity in this district, and it's a district that I love. We have people from all over the district. We have men and women of labor. We have Pedro here from the carpenters union. We've been supported by the laborers union. We have members from the operators union as well. It's amazing that we have so much ground support not only in the labor movement but also throughout this entire district.

"We get paid to get things done and you know it's funny when the argument always against someone in the minority in the state senate for us is well you can't get anything done but you know what? Someone made a good point the other day Bill Weber overachieves in the minority and some of the Democrats that I work with underachieve every day, so you know what our intensity makes us focus even more. We get bills passed in Albany, local bills which are very important because I represent the local communities here and that's to me the most important thing is to be hands on with your local community so it's something that we pride ourselves in. We have an awesome working relationship not only with our local elected officials like Teresa Kenny from the town of Orangetown. She's doing an unbelievable job. I wish I was running unopposed like she was. We were at a news conference with the supervisor, George Hoehmann today about a bill we passed locally that they were interested in. We deal great with Democrat and Republican, supervisors in not only Ramapo but also Haverstraw and in, All the villages within our district as well, we've got a tremendous amount of supporting people that have endorsed me already within the villages."

 "Right around where I live in Montebello and Wesley Hills, Democrats have galvanized to our message, galvanized to our campaign because they know that we can get things done, that they can rely on us to pick up the phone to come to the events, to really care about the issues."

"We have a lot of problems in this state we just passed a $270 some odd billion dollars dollar budget and we find out a week later that it's an extra $8 billion that they didn't account for. I don't know how that happens, but you know the state keeps spending money and spending money and chasing more and more people out of the state. That's something we have to come to terms with because we're going to lose representation right in the next census we see the gerrymandering attempt that the Democrats just put through a week ago, a bill where they can rewrite the maps essentially every 2 years on the congressional side.

If Mike Lawler wins and they don't like where he's where he overperformed they can redo the district essentially every 2 years."

Weber pointed out, that's an attack on democracy, right? They talk about democracy being attacked. That's a direct attack. People should be allowed to vote for whoever they want and should be respected and it shouldn't be politicians in Albany picking districts for the person that they want. It should be voters who pick that district. "We have a lot of crazy stuff going on in Albany. We fight back against the crazy stuff; we support the good things. I voted for a lot of stuff in that budget, child care money. I think it's very important, and I've heard from my constituents that we need more money for child care. That's something I was proud to support. We support changes in strengthening some of the laws in Albany. I think those are good things. They're not perfect. I would like them to go further, but we have to take our wins where they are. we have to fight back and be the opposition where we need to be.

Weber introduced Brendel Logan Charles, Deputy Town Supervisor for Ramapo.

"I do just want to interrupt for one second. Brendel's been a great, friend of mine, someone who believes in me, who's been a great supporter, who's a good Democrat, as I said, Democrat or Republican, you know, we all have shared values and stuff. Brendel is someone who's came out and supported me even though she took a lot of punches on the face for that, but she's a fighter like I am, and I know she wants to say a few words as well."

"I don't have really much more to say at the end of the day we have to work together. That's the message we're better together. If we say we're only going to be Republican or only Democrat, we can never be only one thing. We have to learn to just be inclusive of each other, respect each other, and work together. The fighting gets us nowhere & while we're fighting the people that we serve are the ones that are suffering. Everyone here, just tell your neighbors to come and support Bill. He & I work together well. We've known each other for long time. People will always going to critique you and say why would you support a Republican? I'm going to tell you. He does the work and if he's going to do the work, I'll support him every time. We need to keep him in Albany."
